

A Sneak Peek At Eliza The Easter Fairy

Come on in and pull up a chair. I can use all the help I can get this time of year! I'm Eliza, the Easter Fairy. I'm the Easter Egg Master Artist and I absolutely love my job!

I've just been given an important assignment by Fairy Headquarters this year. The demand for painted Easter eggs, both in fairyland and in the human world, has been growing steadily in the past years. This year is the highest in the past century, so I was quite worried that I wouldn't be able to keep up.

Luckily, the Fairy HQ gave me permission to open a special Easter egg painting school, which is open to all fairies throughout fairyland. The Easter eggs that I paint are very special, as they are both magical and quite detailed in design and color. Each Easter egg takes me six to eight hours to complete, and that will depend on how intricate the design is and which magical spell it'll have.

Easter is just around the corner, which means that I only have under a month's time to prepare. I will pick the best six fairy students from the Easter egg painting school and I will make them my apprentices. I'll need to train them further so that they can paint and design Easter eggs that humans and enchanted folks will undoubtedly adore. But more importantly, I wish to help these fairies find their true calling: to become an Easter Fairy, just like me!
